The City of Toronto holds public consultations as one way to engage residents in the life of their city. We invite you to get involved.

The South Niagara Planning Study

Date: Thursday, March 27, 2014

Time: 7:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m.

Place: 250 Fort York Blvd. - Blue Barracks (see map)

The Toronto City Planning Division is studying the lands bordered by Bathurst Street, Strachan Avenue, Wellington Street West, and the Metrolinx rail corridor. The study will continue to engage area landowners, residents and business owners to discuss the area's mix of employment and residential uses, City Services such as day care and the works yard, the appropriate built form, transition and buffering of new developments, potential improvements to pedestrian, cycling and vehicle connections, enhancement of area park space, and the study area's relation to the Fort York National Historic Site.

The last meeting on this study included a collaborative design exercise which allowed attendees to develop a concept plan for the future of the South Niagara Study Area.

At this meeting, City Staff will be presenting draft recommendations for the Study area. The intent of this meeting is to discuss these draft recommendations and allow for adjustments as necessary prior to the Study's conclusion.

A re-cap of the previous meetings will be provided. For questions regarding this Planning Study, please contact the following:
